

Responsible investment
Private Equity Club 2011

pwc

PwC invite you to the third event for the 2011 series of the Private Equity Club, on Tuesday 20 September 2011.

4.45pm Registration

The Royal Aeronautical Society
No.4 Hamilton Place,
London W1J 7BQ

5:00pm Presentation

6:00pm Drinks

The responsible investment agenda is increasingly influencing investment processes in the private equity industry. Houses are realising that environmental, social and governance issues must be understood and managed to ensure both legal compliance and value creation in their portfolios. This meeting introduces some key issues in addressing responsible investment

In particular, our experts will discuss:

- Business case for, and valuation of, environmental, social and governance initiatives;
- Carbon accounting;
- Bribery, corruption and business ethics.

Our speakers for the event are:

Melissa Carrington

Melissa has 14 years of environmental, social and governance (ESG) consulting experience. She specialises in developing business cases for responsible investments and quantifying the financial value of ESG initiatives at a company and portfolio level. Before joining PwC, Melissa worked for nine years in the financial services sector as an economist and strategist, most recently as European Equity Strategist for ABN AMRO Hoare Govett.

☎: +44 (0) 20 7212 5918
✉: melissa.carrington@uk.pwc.com

Avni Mashru

Avni is part of PwC's global accounting consulting services group, which provides IFRS and UK GAAP accounting advice to financial services companies. Avni provides accounting advice to some of the largest FTSE 100 companies, in particular specialising in carbon accounting. She also develops guidance for PwC's Manual of Accounting, is involved in response letters to standard setters and delivers accounting training.

☎: +44 (0) 020 7213 1438
✉: avni.r.mashru@uk.pwc.com

Mark Anderson

Mark is in PwC's Forensic Services team and leads the Global Corporate Intelligence practice. He has managed over 200 integrity and anti-corruption due diligence projects for a wide range of clients, including private equity firms, examining issues such as reputation, corruption, criminal and unethical behaviour in third party relationships. Mark has worked on the two largest international commercial anti-corruption investigations and remediation programs ever conducted. He continues to work with a number of international private equity firms and other clients on designing and embedding anti-bribery and corruption procedures, with a particular focus on third parties.

☎: +44 (0) 20 7804 2564
✉: mark.r.anderson@uk.pwc.com